The generation gap problem is wide, social and very serious. But let's start from the beginning: what is a “generation gap”? It is the difference in the attitude to life or behaviour between young and older people that causes lack of understanding of each other. But it is not only a problem between young and older people. It can also exist between social classes: the rich and the poor, labour and bosses, politicians and common people, between countries and between governments. But it is a rare case. I think that a generation gap is caused by misunderstanding between people. Everybody has their own opinion on everything, their own views and style of life. Such a gap also depends on the time factor, age factor and social class. Young people don't always understand older ones. Styles of life are different in different times. Things that have been suitable before aren't understandable now. Unfortunately, such “gaps” can lead to discrepancies and even to more serious problems. But people cannot always solve a problem or find any way out of such a conflict. I am sure that a generation gap is everlasting. In my opinion, the only way out is that we should understand each other and that we should be much more patient. Because it is very important to be in sympathy with each other. And everything will be all right.

Homework/translate these sentences into Ukrainian.

A generation gap is a problem which everybody knows. Everybody has this problem and we can do nothing about it. This is my opinion. Children and parents are from different generations and sometimes it is really difficult to understand each other, especially in opinions about music, style of our clothes, haircut or something like that. Because the previous generation had different fashion and tastes or views on different questions. We always think that in future we will become better parents than ours but it is rather difficult. Questions about fashion are very important to all teenagers and sometimes modern fashion is rather strange. And it is sometimes difficult for our parents to understand the clothes we wear.
